

In Consciousness, December 23, 2009

The Declaration of Nick Smith

W hen in the Course of human events it becomes necessary for one person to dissolve the mental bands which have held him bound by his past and to incorporate and transcend the occurrences of his life. He is empowered to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle him, a decent ability to provide for his family and serve the community in which he resides.

I Nick Smith, hold these truths to be self-evident, that I Am created equal, that I Am endowed by my Creator with certain talents and powers, that among these are Love, Learning and Listening, Friendship, Writing, Teaching, Speaking and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these talents and powers, objectives and actions are instituted by me each day, — I hereby declare myself to be the most sought after Public Speaker in America, Best Selling Author, Spiritual Leader, True Friend, Incredible Father, Loving Husband, Passionate and Caring Coach, Highly Paid Provider and Happy Person. I declare myself to be the embodiment of Love, Service, Kindness and Authenticity. I Am a Gentle, Powerful, Inspiring, Loving Man of Light.

I make time for my children and when in play or conversation, I am completely with them.

I listen to my wife and look after her needs. She is the most important person in my life. My kids will grow and have their own spouses. God would have me love her and care for her as the Queen that she is. She is my everything.

I spend each day as though it were my last; my greatest performance is in the day I am in and even more so in the moment wherein I am aware.

I am bold in my generative speech. I ask for that which I stand in need of and believe I will receive it. I receive all that is for my higher good.

I make agreements with everyone in my life and do not hold unfair expectations. I honor people's ability to choose and will respect their choices no matter what they are.

I believe in God (My Heavenly Father) and in his son Jesus Christ, the Holy Ghost and the Atonement. I respect and allow all men to believe who, how or what they may and hold their beliefs just as dearly as my own.

I serve people into their highest potential and will not raise people up against their will. If a man or woman chooses to stay down, I will love them and allow them to live within their ability of choice.

I will love each person authentically. I will care enough that at times I won't care. I will inspire others by being my potential.

I love every aspect of my life; the addictions, the poverty, the fatness, the thinness, the bankruptcy and foreclosure, the mean Nick and the nice one. Everything I am is created by everything I was. Everything I will be is created by who I am. I choose to be the best I can be now while life exists within me.

I am aware of and direct my emotions in a manner that will create rather than destroy.

I am wise with my finances and make beneficial financial decision that will bless my family.

Each morning I ask myself: Who would I like to be today? What would I have to do to be that person? How can I serve and love those I come in contact with?

I be who I would like to become.

I, therefore, in complete Consciousness, solemnly publish and declare, That I am Absolved from all Allegiance to my old behaviors; and that as Free and Independent person, I have full Power to Create, Provide, Contract, Build Relationships, Establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent Persons may of right do. — And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, I pledge my Life, My Energy and my sacred Honor.

A handwritten signature in black ink on a white background. The signature is highly stylized and cursive, appearing to read "Nick S." with a large, looping flourish at the end.